ROLL OF HONOR No. XIV.

GENERAL ORDER
No. 7.

QUARTERMASTER GENERAL'S OFFICE,
WASHINGTON, D. C., February 20, 1868

The following list of the names of deceased Union Soldiers who died and were buried at the various Prisons at the South during the war, forwarded by Brevet Brigadier General J. J. Dana, Q. M., U. S. A., is published by authority of the Secretary of War, for the information of surviving comrades and friends.

QUARTERMASTER GENERAL'S OFFICE,
SIXTH DIVISION,
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 24, 1867.

Brevet Major General D. H. RUCKER,
*Acting Quartermaster General, U. S. A.,
Washington, D. C.*

GENERAL:

I have the honor to submit herewith for publication the record of the names of a portion of the Union Soldiers who died in the prison pens throughout the States lately in rebellion: being "Roll of Honor" No. XIV.

This record contains the names of about 12,000 Union prisoners, and is arranged alphabetically under the names of the various places in the different Southern States where they are now interred; it contains all the names of deceased Union prisoners which this office has as yet been able to obtain, excepting the 13,000 names of prisoners who died at Andersonville, Ga., which have already been published in General Order No. 69 ½, from this office, November 25, 1865, and such other names as have heretofore been published in other Rolls of Honor.

It is presumed that not more than half of the remains of these soldiers have been identified as yet.

These names have been obtained principally from the records on file in the Office of the Commissary General of Prisoners, on which they have been entered from the original prison death rolls, so far as hitherto obtained. From a great many of the prisons at the South, however, no rolls have as yet been obtained, having been destroyed or secreted by the keepers of the prisons at the close of the war; for this reason there will be found in this list only a small portion of the names of those buried at the prisons in Tennessee, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, Mississippi, and Florida, and at Salisbury, N. C., and Florence, S. C., and none at all of the names of those buried at many other places where Union prisoners were confined.

The rolls recovered were, at most, very incomplete, for which reason the "cause of death" appears within for only about one-half the number of the deceased; in most instances, where recorded, it is given as chronic diarrhoea, scurvy, dysentery, or wounds.

I am, General,

Very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

J. J. DANA,
*Major and Quartermaster, U. S. A.,
Brevet Brigadier General.*

SALISBURY NATIONAL CEMETERY, N. C.

This Cemetery is situated near Salisbury, Rowan county, N. C., which is on the North Carolina Railroad, and about 132 miles west of Raleigh.

Originally there were two soldiers' Cemeteries at Salisbury. The first and principal one is situated on a small hill, about half a mile southwest of Salisbury, and about one hundred yards south of the North Carolina Railroad, and is enclosed with a board fence, and contains about one and a half acres of ground.

It contains thirteen (13) trenches, in which were buried, without coffins or boxes, and without any means of identifying them, (except sixteen (16) belonging to the Masonic Fraternity,) about five thousand (5,000) bodies of deceased Union soldiers, who died while confined in the Salisbury prison, and in hospitals near the "stockade," during the rebellion.

The burial of these soldiers in so inhumane a manner was done by one Sergeant Harris, under the orders of Major Gee, both of the rebel army. Out of some nine or ten thousand soldiers confined there, over five thousand fell victims to the cruelty of the rebels then in charge, by starvation and disease.

The other, called the Lutheran Cemetery, was situated about one hundred and fifty (150) yards northwest of the railroad depot. The exact number of graves of Union soldiers buried in this Cemetery could not be ascertained, on account of the indiscriminate burial of rebels in the same ground; also on account of the irregularity of the graves, and of the want of head-boards.

In this Cemetery were buried fourteen (14) Union soldiers, who, upon taking the oath of allegiance to the rebel government, were admitted into the rebel hospital, where they afterwards died. There is no record of State, regiment, or arm of service of these men; no head-boards at their graves; and therefore they cannot be identified.

The bodies from this Cemetery, and some others from the vicinity of Salisbury, estimated in all at about one hundred (100) in number, are now being re-interred in the principal Cemetery.

The trenches are each to be surrounded by a wall about one foot in height, which is to be filled up with earth, making a mound over the trench, and grass seed is to be sown. The paths are to be neatly graveled, trees set out, and wooden tablets, painted white, to be erected, with the following inscription in black letters: "U. S. Soldiers. Unknown."

In the centre of the Cemetery is to be raised a mound or a circle thirty (30) feet in diameter, with a proper flag-staff in the centre. The whole is to be surrounded by a neat and substantial fence, with a gateway, over which will be an arc, bearing the inscription, "United States National Cemetery," and such other improvements are to be carried out as will tend to give a neat and attractive appearance to the place.

DISCLAIMER:

The History Program, National Cemetery Administration, Department of Veterans Affairs has made every attempt to ensure the accuracy of the transcription presented here. However, some changes from the original were made to improve the readability and accessibility of the document. Changes include: correcting running numbers on the left-hand side of the document, which in some cases were printed incorrectly in the original; correcting letters that were printed upside down in the original; and replacing "Do." (meaning ditto) in the columns labeled "Rank" and "Cause" with the actual rank and cause of death. Additionally, when no information was provided, "[Blank]" was inserted in the table cell.

You may wish to consult the list in its original form either on-line or through your local library.
